

Position Description of the Board of Directors Updated November 2017

Functions

As representatives of the membership of the association, the Board of Directors is the primary force working to realize the Association's opportunities for service and the fulfillment of its obligations to the membership, to the association as a single entity, and to the library and information services profession.

Responsibilities

1. Planning

- Works collaboratively with staff and other key stakeholders to create and approve the association's mission, vision, and values.
- Annually assesses the ever-changing environment in which the association functions and approves the association's strategy in relation to it.
- Annually reviews and approves the association's plans for funding its strategy.
- Reviews and approves the association's programs, plans, and directions.
- Reviews the association management company's performance in achieving SLA's mission, vision and values.

2. Organization

- Regularly discusses with the Executive Director matters that are of concern to him/her or to the Board of Directors.
- Is assured that management continuity is properly provided.
- Is assured that the status of organizational strength and staffing is equal to the requirements of the SLA Strategic Plan.
- Determines the eligibility of candidates for the nomination of officers and directors as submitted by the Nominating Committee and receives the report of the Nominating Committee for the nomination of officers and directors.
- Annually reviews the performance of the Board of Directors and takes steps (including recommendations for its composition, organization, and responsibilities) to improve its performance.

3. Operations

- Reviews the results achieved by management as compared with the association's mission, the association's program plans, and the SLA Strategic Plan as well as in comparison with those of similar organizations.
- Ascertains that the financial structure of the association is adequate for its current needs and the implementation of the SLA Strategic Plan by approving the association's annual budget.
- Provides candid and constructive criticism, advice and comments to the President, other members of the Board of Directors, and the Executive Director.
- Approves major actions of the association, such as capital expenditures on all projects over authorized limits or major changes in programs and services.

4. Audit

- Is assured that the Board of Directors and its committees are adequately and currently informed through reports and other methods of the financial condition of the association.
- Is assured that published reports properly reflect operating results and the financial condition of the association.
- Ascertains that management has established appropriate policies to define and identify conflicts of interest throughout the association, and is diligently overseeing the enforcement of those policies.
- Approves independent auditors.
- Reviews compliance with relevant material laws affecting the association.

Duties of Care, Loyalty and Obedience

Board members have a fiduciary duty to the association, including duties of care, loyalty, and obedience. In the event the duties of care, loyalty or obedience is breached, the individual breaching the duty is potentially liable to the association for any damages caused to the association as a result. This duty is a duty to the association as a whole.

1. Duty of Care: is a broad duty, requiring officers and directors to exercise ordinary and reasonable care in the performance of their duties, exhibiting honesty and good faith. Officers and directors must act in a manner which they believe to be in the best interests of the association, and with such care, including reasonable inquiry, as an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would use under similar circumstances.
2. Duty of Loyalty: is a duty of faithfulness to the association. Officers and directors must give undivided allegiance to the association when making decisions affecting the association. Officers and directors cannot put personal interests above the interests of the association.
3. Duty of Obedience: requires officers and directors to act in accordance with the association's articles of incorporation, bylaws and other governing documents, as well as all applicable laws and regulations.
